G-IB-178

MASON-DIXON LINE: MILESTONE NO. ---(180)

1902

Finzel, Maryland vicinity

Public/private

Milestone No. ---(180), on Little Savage Mountain ridge, marks a new point about midway between Mason and Dixon's 166th and 167th miles from the northeast corner of Maryland, the beginning of their 230.228-mile West Line. It is a very plain, dressed marble post with a low pyramidal top, quarried and carved in Cockeysville, Maryland; is in fairly good condition, unaltered, firmly set; measures about 10 inches square by about 20 inches high above ground; and is embellished only by the capital letter P on the north side facing Pennsylvania, M on the south side facing Maryland, the year 1767 on the east side (when this area was surveyed and marked), and 1902 on the west side (when the ^{new} monument was added to the Line). On the national and state levels, No. ---(180) is significant primarily as one of the thematic group series of some 248 markers still visually defining the West Line, the provincial boundary later known as the Mason-Dixon Line, famous for its historical impact and innovative survey methods. Locally, as one of 42 markers along the present Garrett/Somerset-Fayette county boundary, it is also significant symbolically for its relationship to the colonial and Civil War heritage of these counties.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Milestone No. --- (180), on Little Savage Mountain ridge, was a new monument at this additional site when set/in 1902 during the 1900-03 Resurvey of the Maryland-Pennsylvania boundary. It is a very plain, dressed Cockeysville marble post with a low pyramidal top; is in/^{fairly}good condition, firmly set, unaltered; measures 10 inches square by about 20 inches high above ground; and is embellished only by the capital letter P on the north side facing Pennsylvania, M on the south side facing Maryland, the year 1767 on the east side (when this area was originally surveyed by Mason and Dixon), and 1902 on the west side.

The area here is the high/^{scraggly}ridge of Little Savage Mountain (elevation at the site about 2700 feet), densely wooded, sparsely settled. The site is within Election District 13 of ALLEGANY COUNTY, MD, and Greenville Township of Somerset County, PA; about 1¼ miles northeast of the village of Finzel, MD; about 2¼ miles southeast of the settlement of Pocahontas, PA; about 2650 feet west of the preceding monument and mound on Big Savage Mountain ridge; about 850 feet west of Laurel Run; about 1100 feet north of/^{the nearby}bend in Sampson Rock Road and about 50 feet northeast of Mrs. Raley's small cottage/^{in her mowed front yard,}on the west side of a private lane. It can be seen easily when nearby, all seasons; and is protected by an old fencepost as well as Mrs. Raley.

The monument, as with the ^{65 other identical monuments of 1902} set west of Sideling Hill by the Resurvey, was quarried and carved in Cockeysville, MD, originally measured about 10 inches square by about 4½ feet long, ^{and was}cut to stand about 1½ feet high with the remaining 3 feet for setting into the ground. The letters and numbers are blocky, without serifs, V-sunk, and horizontally-aligned as a band near the top. Although the letters and numbers are clear, the P has been defaced by a chip; the edges are chipped (particularly the northeast, northwest and southwest vertical edges), and all top corners are chipped, as well as the apex.

(see Thematic Group National Register nomination form for full descriptions of the Resurvey monument additions set in 1902)

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Milestone No. --- (180) is significant on the national and state levels primarily as one of the thematic group series of some 248 markers still visually defining Mason and Dixon's West Line, the 230.228-mile provincial boundary later known as the Mason-Dixon Line, famous for its historical impact and innovative survey methods. This part of the Line was ^{originally} surveyed and marked in 1767, and the new Cockeysville marble monument added to the Line in 1902, during the 1900-03 Resurvey of the Maryland-Pennsylvania boundary. Locally, as one of 42 markers along the present Garrett/Somerset-Fayette county boundary, No. --- (180) is also significant for its identifiable relationship to the colonial and Civil War heritage of these counties.
